The top news story in Alabama this week centers around the acknowledged split between Governor Wallace and his wife, Elba's Cornelia. While the family would probably prefer he news media to leave them alone, the public interest in them that put them where they are is the same public interest that will not let them settle their problems quietly. However, Coffee County folks who are interested have heard or read all there is to know about the matter, and we will just recognize the fact, and let it ride from there.

The man accused of being the Son of Sam killer ain't able to stand trial, says a doctor of the mind! A few weeks ago, another 'expert' said he should be turned loose without bail. I don't agree with either one of them. First, they spent millions of dollars in New York hunting the man who reportedly said, "You finally got me," and was planning a mass killing for that night. Next, he knew enough to slip up on people and to get away in a hurry. Therefore, someone had better reset their standards of judging. Probably the folks who said turn him loose without bail will be hunting another job, (politics im loose without bail will be hunting another job, (politics this case), and the doctors who said he doesn't know right value Twins Make Appearance from wrong has hurt the creditability of their profession.

because she used their name on her wedding invitations. The wedding has already happened, and they got the publicity they wanted, but I will bet it will be a long time before they get back the daughter they lost.

In Ocean Beach, New York, a young couple is fighting a court conviction for eating chocolate chip cookies in public! Now, if they wanted to smoke pot, get drunk, or sunbathe in the nude, that can be beat in court, but eating those terrible chocolate chip cookies in public is bad against the law.

Miss Alabama is in Atlantic City with a bunch of other pretty girls seeking the Miss America title. One of the daily papers aday, pictured her in some of the fashionable things she will wear. There will be at least sixteen different outfits plus the swim suits. She has an outfit to get there in, another to tell the press folks she is there, another for practice, and well she lost me. I bet it will take a truck just to haul her clothes for a week's stay.

All of us who say from time to time that the whole world has gone down the drain can take notice of a glimmer of light at the end of the dark tunnel. The original "good guy in the white hat" Roy Rogers has come out the retirement to star in another movie! Now that has got to be the best thing to happen to society since ... well since Trigger was born.

State Senators are in trouble at election time, or so says a member of that group, Senator Richard Shelby of Tuscaloosa. He made the comments in a talk in Enterprise last week, and irtually every newspaper in the state has publicized the event. Shelby said that they were in trouble because of all the bad things that has happened to senators during the past three years. He noted that about twice as many as were actually convicted in court should have been convicted.

Football is king in Elba and this is the time of year for the king to sit on his throne. Leavy Boutwell is just one of the many fans that support the sport year in and year out. However, last Friday night Big Leavy didn't go to the Elba--Geneva football game...the first he has missed since 1959! This is probably a record that can't be beat but then he has a fairly good excuse. It seems that a former Elba football star is coaching football in New Brockton, and his dad wanted to support his son. Brockton lost, but Leavy was there to see Leavy work with the team as a line coach.

However, the streak is now over and Elba is 2-0 on the young Elba looked pretty good last week even though there is still pleaty of room for improvement. The Tigers do have an explosive offense with three of the top runners in the state, but he line doesn't seem to be able to consistently control the line scrimmage. I'm sure with more experience the offense will be even better than they are now. James Smith is finally getting a chance to show what kind of runner he is, and the senior speedster has rushed for nearly 300 yards in the opening two games. If James can avoid injury, he has a legitimate shot at gaining 1000 yards. I was also impressed with the play of newcomer Russ Wood.

Russ is a veryaggressive player on defense and is a good blocker on offense. Russ is also a sure-handed receiver and knows what to do when he catches the ball. The young man has un-

The Gamecocks do not have much depth, but have the potential to win some games; If you believe everything you read, Opp is just warming up for the state championship game with Athens. I'll admit Opp has a fine group of coaches, but I think some people over in Opp are getting carried away over a couple of wins over teams Opp always beats. I'm sure Coach Griffin has a good team, but the Bobcats still have a long way to go; Andalusia is good, as always!

Len Newton is shown with one of his "pets". This is a six feet rat snake and is harmless, according to Len. He says this snake is easily handled and he can do most anything with him. The big snake is unusual in that he is so big. According to Len, this is a real big rat snake, even though other breeds grow larger.

Presently, this is the only snake Len has, and he has only had this one a few weeks. At one point during the past summer, he had about twenty of these pets in a pen including a small rattlesnake. However, he said, "My mother made me turn him loose.'

While handling the rattler, he took the time to break off the fangs of the snake. He noted that this made him harmless for about two weeks.

Len keeps his snakes mostly in a large camping tent with a complete bottom and a zipper door. He says that he sometimes sleeps in the tent with the snakes, but never with twenty and never with the rattlers.

He promises to show off a large collection of pets, probably next summer when he will have time to look around and find them.
